

Sisterhood of the Planetary Water Rites Newsletter for December 2010

Greetings Dear Sisters and Brothers:

We are almost at the close of the year. Time has speeded up!

It also has been a year since the birth of The Sisterhood of the Planetary Water Rites. A water blessing ceremony at Medicine Creek was the center of activity in November of 2009. On the night that the circle was to be energized for the blessing four women sat around in a circle with candle light glowing. We all knew that something magical was being created. We vowed to each other to become a Sisterhood devoted to helping our Mother Earth and all of her elements. Water was the beginning and the main source of life as so it was to be our first channeling of energies.

We all met again in Sedona to present our Cause to the 13 Indigenous Grandmothers in Council with a letter describing who and what we where.....here is a copy of the original letter presented on December 6th, 2009.

The Sisterhood of Planetary Water Rites

Greetings to all our honorable and most beloved Grandmothers:

We are the Sisterhood of Planetary Water Rites. We have been brought together through Spirit as a dedicated voice for our waters.

Our mission is to teach, to support and to be a unifying force for ceremonies to bless, purify and restore our planet's waters and natural water systems, that there will always be clean and fresh water for all.

Under this mission we will be teaching the importance of our waters, water ceremonies and why this is so urgent at this time.

We are calling for World Water Prayer Day to unite all people upon our Mother Earth to set aside a day of prayer for the waters.

Several visions for this have come. We pass one message on to you.

"We open our hearts to the Grandmother's Spirit to honor all the grandmothers of the world. We ask a blessing for your sacred journeys. We bring to you a need for support for what we have been shown to help your children's waters. Many councils are gathering to unite in the healing of our Mother Earth. The day has shown itself, when the moons gather in the heavens, on the 18th of May 2010, that the world will unite to honor the waters of this planet. Worldwide participation is being called upon to manifest the energies to replenish the essence that gives life to all. We are calling this a holy day of sacred journeys with the waters. We petition you to carry this back to your homelands and share it with your ancestral communities.

Many Blessings!"

We are: Rain on the Earth, Barbara Larson, Tonya Whitedeer Cargill, Brenda Morgan, Patricia Veneman, Lori Starlyn and Catherine Blossom.

Now to date we have almost 80 Circles for Water Blessings all over the world. See our map site and circle locations on our web www.waterblessings.org

Our next date for mass harmonic convergence is to be March 22nd 2011, it is not too early to begin organizing our united circles. The ancient ones have given us the honor to be Keepers of the Ancient Ceremony for the Water Ways, we encourage all of our Sisterhood Circles to obtain a copy by request through Grandmother Whitedeer, whitebuffalowoman@msn.com . Together we can make a difference.

There are some new extentions of our work that include our Young Spirits page. Connected to UNICEF through Donna Goodman, she and Shanalia will be creating a network of information for our children's involvement within our Sisterhood.

YOUR SPARK OF DIVINITY IS IMMORTAL AND ETERNAL

Beloved masters, never forget: that your reason for Being is to become a conscious cocreator, and that our Father/Mother God is the Life-Giving force of your existence. You must let go of the straight line, linear time concept whereby your choices are limited and influenced by the past. A Self-master functions within the Law of the Circle, the concept of the Infinity Loop (a horizontal figure 8). The Infinity Loop that continually flows forth before you is filled with Divine potential; however, the Infinity Loops around you in your personal Creator wheel must contain the thought forms of harmonious frequencies to support your vision. You are assured that your desires/visions will manifest in the perfect way and perfect time if you stay centered in your Sacred Heart and maintain clarity of thought and action. Remember, the human Spirit cannot be defeated, for it is composed of God-stuff and is therefore indestructible. The Spark of Divinity that has been allotted to each of you is immortal and eternal.

The world you now live in is not a reflection of the world that was planned for you. Stored within your DNA are etheric time capsules which hold the memory Essence of all your past lives. You have separated and refracted yourself thousands of times; however, you have memory cells of your Divinity waiting to be accessed and incorporated into your Being. These memory cells are the building blocks of your Light Body. It is a time of attuning to the consciousness of your body elemental, and you must make time for introspection in order to develop spiritual sensitivity. You must make a habit of continually monitoring and controlling your STATE OF MIND as you move deeper and deeper into the process of ascension and the expansion of your conscious awareness. Gradually, a good portion of your memory of past events will begin to fade as you move out of the realm of the instinctual brain/mind into the realm of the higher mind.

Over time, humankind became sense-conscious instead of remaining God-conscious, thereby gradually losing the opportunity for Self-expression. The inspiration and guidance of the Higher Self and the Soul were gradually replaced by the nudgings of the ego desire body. Original thought became a thing of the past as humanity became stuck in the illusionary, collective consciousness realm of thought. Your beliefs and concepts of truth became rigid, structured and often distorted. As you gradually lost the connection to your internal guidance, you began to focus on the outer world, and you became mostly a reactor, rather than an initiator.

Those who are functioning within the frequency environment of the discordant third and fourth dimensions rely on their subconscious and conscious minds to store information / knowledge. Some are better at retaining and retrieving information than others; however, it is ineffectual and/or distorted in many instances. Remember, knowledge must be integrated and used in an appropriate, efficient way in order to be retained as wisdom. The chakras are subconscious mind centers. In the beginning, these centers worked in perfect harmony; however, gradually over time the spectrum of duality became stronger and more prevalent, and your vibrational patterns became more discordant. As the chakra system is balanced and harmonized, the power centers of the chakras begin to work in unison for the greatest good of the host instead of warring with each other for supremacy.

You begin to listen to the small voice of your consciousness or your Soul Self; however, you do not always following its guidance. Some of your deep-seated habits become burdens, and you begin the process of attempting to change or release them. Thus, the battle between the ego and the Higher Self begins. Gradually, the ego takes a secondary position as the servant of the Soul. Your personality slowly begins to change, for the ego no longer controls your emotions and your desire impulses. Your viewpoint of others gradually changes also, and you begin to see situations from a higher, broader point of view. Ascension is mind-expanding, a process of passing from one state of consciousness into another. Your awareness gradually expands to include all humanity, the Earth, the solar system and the higher universal laws. No longer is your focus on the little self. The ultimate goal is to become a galactic Being and to eventually attain a universal consciousness.

When you attain and maintain some of the frequency patterns of the higher fourth dimension and the entry level vibrational patterns of the fifth dimension, a Soul merge of the facet of your Higher Self that resides within your Soul Star begins. The Higher Soul Self gradually sends down the Essence of a portion of your Higher Self into your Sacred Heart Center. This action, in turn, will ignite the Three-Fold Flame (Divine Love, Divine Wisdom, Divine Will/Power) within your Solar Power Center, which encompasses the heart, thymus and throat area. When this process is completed, you will have integrated the attributes, qualities and virtues of that portion of your Soul Self. Thereafter, the next higher level of your etheric Higher Self will descend and take up residency with your Soul Star, awaiting ITS turn to merge with you. This process will repeat itself over and over again, as you merge with greater and greater facets of your Divine Self.

The earlier in life you begin to listen to the nudgings of your Soul and Higher Self, the easier it is to bring the ego and the personality self under control. Your Soul-self, which has an inborn sense of right and wrong, will grow stronger and stronger if you take heed. Or it will gradually become silent if you do not. As the power of the Soul expands, sensitivity increases, and your thoughts, desires and actions become more refined and loving. The Light of the intellect, the Light of reason, brings wisdom and understanding, for it supplies the mental nature with the fuel that enables you to comprehend and master the world of form.

Be aware that forgiveness means to release or resolve imbalanced frequency patterns you have created between yourself and others as you strive to return to center. Forgiveness means freeing yourself from negative emotions so that you may continue to receive the Adamantine Particles of Divine Light. Remember, the pure Essence of the Creator that you draw forth into your Sacred Heart must be ignited / activated via the frequencies of unconditional love.

p.s. Grandfather Whitefeather says...."Let's do this for twelve days, then another and then another and keep the energy going, we can make a difference!"

Hanahuac Project

COLLECTIVE ASSISTANCE IS NEEDED. We all know there is much to be done before the end of 2012. A small group of us have been directed by Spirit to get a project on the ground by late January 2011.

It is a consciousness shifting project. We were given the name Hanahuac for the project (Hanahuac means "Americas" in Maya). It will require extensive travel throughout the Americas by a group of six for the greatest part of two years.

We have managed to get a rudimentary website up: www.hanahuac.org where you will find greater detail about the project.

When we agreed to bring this project into thrid dimensional reality, we were shown that this is a collective work requiring the Spritual, Energetic and Financial support from those on the planet who recognize its importance.

How can you help?

1. Spread the word about the project. We need millions of people aware of this task. So help us go viral with this message.
2. If you match or know anyone who matches the travel coordinator or translator qualifications, please let us know. (These people will be traveling 122-183 days a year through 2012.)
3. If you or someone you know should be our webmaster, let us know.
4. If you have connections with companies or individuals who would potentially sponsor the project, please help us connect with them. [Examples - airlines, tour companies, clothing/gear companies, electronics]
5. If you or someone you know should write a book or create a documentary about this project, let us know.
6. Add this project to your daily prayer list.
7. If you want to keep informed about the progress of the project, let us know and we will add you to our newsletter/blog and keep you current with the unfolding events.
8. If you know you are to support the project financially, please respond to that knowledge.

Even though six will be traveling, everyone who supports the project in any way is a partner. We are grateful for the love, help, support and blessings we know you give. This cannot be accomplished without active participation from our partners. Thank you for your help.

In love, light and service,
Laura

In Memory of Dwight Sands

Dear Friends,

My beloved partner of 27 years, Dwight Sands, ascended into the Divine Wednesday morning, December 1st. As many of you know, Dwight carried the burdens of the world with nearly unbearable compassion. His life was spent in trying to uplift humanity in every way possible. Though often he appeared on the physical plane in overalls and straw hat, a simple farmer, he was, indeed, an enlightened soul.

I am moving through the grieving process at the same time that I rejoice in knowing he is finally freed from the pain he carried. He transcended in peace.

Please do not call me just yet, as each call makes me cry again. You may email if you wish, Even though this is so much less personal, I can at least come to the computer when I am feeling strong and respond without having to re-explain the situation each time.

I will look forward to your calls and personal visits very soon. A Memorial Service is in the process of being planned for the evening of Dec. 8 and the afternoon of Dec. 11. I will send out the details as soon as they are finalized.

Thank you for sending your love and blessings.

"This is What We Wish for You this Holiday Season: A Vessel of Love"

The Grandmothers had been nudging me for a few days, giving me snippets of information. Something about expanding versus contracting. Something to do with the holiday season. What, I wondered, did they want to communicate about this time of year?

No sooner did I ask my question than "Oh Gosh!" I exclaimed as onto the scene of my mind they brought Christmas scenes--snow, carolers, lights, trees, etc. As I watched I realized that all these images had come from the Victorian era--Dickens, Scrooge, all that. "Oh God," I said, horrified by the degree to which I'd been brainwashed, "I've bought the whole thing--hook, line and sinker."

"But this isn't bad," the Grandmothers laughed, poking fun at me. "Scenes like these often give people a feeling of comfort. We are always glad to see people happy. So if these images give you a good feeling, enjoy them. Enjoy them but don't make them more than they are," they admonished. "Remember," they said, "that happiness simply occupies the space between unhappiness. And unhappiness is the breath between two periods of happiness. Life flows. So do not cling to things that you think will make you "happy." Enjoy them, but do not attempt to hang on to them. It is the nature of both happiness and unhappiness to rise and fall, to rise and fall," they explained. "This is the rhythm of life.

Enjoy those traditions of the season that fulfill you--especially if they serve to open your heart. Enjoy yourself and at the same time remember that holiday times invariably carry a charge. Holidays are loaded with memories--both pleasant and unpleasant, and should you end up focusing too much on past memories, you will be drawn off your course. You will lose your balance in the living now and be pulled back down memory lane. This nostalgic charge can hypnotize you, get you longing for the past or regretting it. And should you become caught like this, you will fall into a contracted, not an expanded, state. A contracted state is a false place for you to be because the past IS gone. Furthermore, the past is NOT what you imagine it to be. The human mind invariably restructures memory; so you cannot rely upon recall. Plus, whenever you become fascinated by what is no more and start looking backwards, your energy drops. Too much focusing on the past will enervate you.

Your purpose in being on earth is to expand your heart, to inwardly open. As more love flows into you and from you, you become a vessel of love. Remember this, especially during this season: A vessel of love. This is what you were meant to be. This is what you are.

Don't look backward and don't look far forward either, but instead stand steady in the present moment with your heart open. This we ask of you. Make this holiday season sacred. Do not be distracted by the mass materialism of the world but instead perform whatever actions serve to open your heart, knowing that this open heart will give you, not temporary, but lasting happiness. The open heart will soon become your home base and when it does, you will ride the waves of life with increasing contentment and serenity. Blessing and being blessed. Moving forward inside your ever opening heart.

This is what we wish for you this holiday season."

Our Sacred White Buffalo ...Totem of the Sisterhood

(Let us all support them as they support us!)

Pendleton Woolen Mills Pendleton Woolen Mills has made limited edition "Hiawatha big medicine blankets" using hair shed by white buffalo on a sanctuary in central Oregon operated by the nonprofit Sacred World Peace Alliance.

The 70-year-old Hait, a 1960 Olympic gold medalist in swimming and founder of Pemmican Beef Jerky, first learned of the herd in 2005 and impulsively flew to Flagstaff to see them. He persuaded Hart-Button that "the home for these animals should be here in central Oregon," noting that Madras High School's mascot is a white buffalo. School officials say their mascot was chosen to honor Native Americans living on the Warm Springs Indian Reservation.

Hait also is the one who conceived the idea last spring of having Pendleton Woolen Mills weave the blankets using the white buffalo shed hair. "My wife and kids said, 'What are you smoking?'" when he told them he was taking a bag of shed hair to Woolen Mills President C.M. "Mort" Bishop.

The blankets retail for $520 each, including shipping. The first 11 blankets are special collectibles costing $5,250 each and have the name of one of the 11 white buffalo on them. Four have sold. The blanket sales help underwrite the land rental and hay purchases by the nonprofit Sacred World Peace Alliance directed by Hart-Button that operates the white buffalo sanctuary.

Buffalo usually are black or brown. White buffalo are produced when recessive genes trigger the unusual trait, in a similar way that Oregon's black bears occasionally produce cinnamon and blond bruins. They are not albino.

John Flocchini board president of the National Bison Association said white buffalo are so rare that not one cow buffalo on his family's Wyoming ranch has ever dropped a white buffalo calf. The ranch has produced tens of thousands of buffalo since the mid-1960s and "I've never been around a white one," he said.
